Keeping Your College Student Connected to Temple Jeremiah

TEMPLE JEREMIAH WANTS TO maintain communication and stay connected to your child when he/she is away at college so they continue to feel they are part of our congregational family. Through this continued connection we hope to foster their dedication to lifelong Jewish education and identity generally and to Temple Jeremiah specifically. Thus, the Temple Jeremiah COLLEGE CONNECTION was born.

During the Jewish holidays many college students feel their distance from family and synagogue. To this end, we offer a program that sends gifts to our college students. Temple Jeremiah's COLLEGE CONNECTION sends packages to your child throughout the year including on Jewish holidays such as Rosh Hashanah, Sukkot, Chanukah, Purim and Passover, depending upon where the holidays fall on the secular calendar. The packages include different foods and items associated with each holiday and notes from our clergy/senior staff, as well as publications concerning subjects of Jewish interest.

We have received an overwhelmingly positive response from students and parents enrolled in this program in the past and, as a result, are continuing it again this year! There is a $36 fee to defray shipping costs. Temple Jeremiah Sisterhood and Brotherhood, as well as the Religious School, have generously agreed to subsidize the cost of the package contents.

YOU MUST RESPOND BY TUESDAY, MONDAY, AUGUST 30 TO PARTICIPATE! For more information, contact Jani Harris at 847/940-7533 or JLH7383@comcast.net.
